GREAT LIVESTOCK DISPLAY ATTRACTS INTEREST AT FAIR

Competition Keen in All Classes—Jersey Section Warmly Praised by Prof. H. M. King, of University of British Columbia—Colony Farm Wins Gold Medals for Clydesdales

A MIDST the blare of music from merry-go-rounds, and the hoarse shouting of side-show barkers, crowds of happy Victorians enjoyed themselves yesterday as the Fall Fair at the Willows got into full swing, after the official opening by Mayor Andrew McGavin, Saturday. Not only has the multitude of displays attracted an increasing number of local residents, but many visitors were present to enjoy the diversity of exhibits and educational features.

Wide attention has been drawn to the livestock sections, and all day yesterday, those interested in horses, cattle, sheep, and swine thronged the barns to the right of the Midway. Not even when the stock had been bedded down for the night, did the stream of visitors cease.

In all, 302 sheep, 106 swine, 309 head of cattle, 1,000 poultry exhibits, fifty Clydesdale horses, and 350 rabbits are entered this year.

ALL A.C. REPRESENTED

The animals have been brought from all parts of British Columbia, and from Prairie points.

Judging, which commenced Saturday, continued yesterday. It will be completed by Thursday.

Particularly keen competition was

LEAGUE WILL STUDY PLEAS

China and Spain Appeal Against Aggression—Tension of Piracy Easier

GENEVA, Sept. 13 (AP).—League of Nations diplomats prepared tonight to consider appeals of China and Government Spain against "aggression" in the world's two main trouble spots, the Mediterranean and the Far East.

League circles discussed possibility of mediation to end the Chinese-Japanese war as an alternative to invocation, requested by China, of the "sanctions" which failed to stop Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

AN IMPOSING FLEET

With a fleet of sixty British and French destroyers assembled to patrol the Mediterranean against submarine pirates, the League refused Spanish insurgent General Franco's attempt to unseat the Spanish Government from the League Assembly.

It also left Ethiopia in the League status it enjoyed two years ago.

The League Assembly's credentials committee disregarded Franco's letter declaring his Government was the sole representative of the Spanish people. Instead, it approved credentials of the Central Government delegation.

The decision, confirmed by the Assembly, came at the outset of a critical session scheduled to hear the Spanish Government's formal accusation of Italy as a "Mediterranean pirate power."

Piracy tension eased somewhat when Spanish Government officials at Madrid declared a Carlist "street rumor" that a pirate submarine lay crippled under the Mediterranean offshore was without

R. B. Bennett Will Attend B.C. Meeting

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13 (AP).—The annual meeting of the British Columbia Conservative Association will be held at New Westminster, October 30, with Hon. R. B. Bennett, Dominion Conservative leader, returning from Ottawa to attend.

Date for the meeting was set at an executive meeting of the party on Saturday.

More than two hundred delegates from all parts of the province are expected to attend.

SAYS INDIA AT TURNING POINT

Viceroy Addresses Houses of Assembly—Many Problems Unsolved

SIMLA, India, Sept. 13 (AP).—India, going through a turning point in her history, is establishing a new and vigorous system of parliamentary Government, the Viceroy of India today told a joint meeting of the two Houses of the Legislative Assembly.

The constitutional changes of last April, involving the setting up of Provincial Legislatures, had resulted in establishment in office in every province of ministries enjoying support of a majority in the Legislatures, he said. The Congress party finally decided to set up ministries after first refusing to do so in provinces where it won election majorities.

BOYCOTTS MEETING

The session met without its Congress and Congress Nationalist members. The Congress party boycotted the meeting, in line with its policy of refusing to participate in public functions at which the King's representative is present, while the Nationalists—corresponding to the right wing of the Congress party—were absent because the Viceroy refused to receive a deputation protesting against construction of an abattoir at Lahore.

Lord Linlithgow reviewed recent political events in detail.

Noting establishment of the provincial ministries, Lord Linlithgow expressed confidence the ministries would receive all the legitimate support possible from the public services.

He said there were many complications and difficulties to be surmounted before the final stage of constitutional reform—the federation of India—could be achieved.

GET COUGAR CUBS BUT LOSE MOTHER

NANAIMO, Sept. 13 (AP).—Albert Timmins and A. Wilson, two young hunters of Chase River, shot two young panthers, one two-prong buck and three grouse early Saturday morning and were back home at 10 o'clock. Next morning they visited the panther lair and found the mother panther treed by two dogs owned by Game Warden J. Dewar. The boys waited for an hour for the owner of the dogs to appear, but before he did the mother panther jumped from the tree and made off through the woods with both dogs in pursuit and the hunters left behind.

Riding High at the Willows

The three little ladies, shown above, seemed to be anticipating their sky ride on the big ferris wheel, at the Provincial Exhibition, the Willows, as the cameraman caught them in this happy mood. The young couple just below are being secured in their seat and soon the mighty wheel will turn and the youngsters experience a breath-taking thrill, as well as beholding a bird's-eye-view of the entire fair grounds.

Rail Head Makes Stirring Plea for Economic Sanity

Sir Edward Beatty Urges Canada's Contribution To Cause of World Peace by Extended Immigration Facilities and Readjustment Of Economic Problems at Home

E LOQUENT plea for the calm consideration of the basic causes of economic unrest among nations, and upon the removal of which hinge all the hopes of the world for peace, was laid before the Men's Canadian Club here yesterday by Sir Edward Beatty, G.B.E., K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

ONTARIO REPORTS LESS PARALYSIS

Fewer New Cases Under Treatment—Total of 1,000 Cases In All Canada

(By The Canadian Press)
Three deaths reported yesterday in widely-scattered sections of Canada brought the nation's toll from infantile paralysis to sixty-eight since the outbreak first began to make headway in June.

At the same time there were signs the spread of the disease was on the wane as Ontario, centre of the epidemic, reported fewer new cases. Of close to 1,000 cases reported throughout Canada since June, Ontario has had approximately 1,300, Toronto and London being chief epidemic centres in that province.

Labor Congress Opens At Ottawa; Right to Organize Is Debated

Many Resolutions Placed Before Canadian Body—They Include Changes to B.N.A. Act, Picketing, Home Loans and Building Programmes

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (AP).—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today approved resolutions calling for amendments to the British North America Act, affirming its stand in favor of liberty of organization, asking reduction in the interest rate on home improvement loans, favoring a Government-instituted house building programme and asking clarification of laws regarding picketing.

In addition the congress, holding its fifty-third annual convention, heard delegates vigorously denounce Ontario and Quebec Premier for allegedly challenging the right of labor to organize in unions of its own choice.

The convention adopted, without debate a resolution favoring a uniform act regarding the right of labor to organize and asking the

Further Increase In Attendance at Fair Is Reported

A NOTHER increase over the attendance figures for the same day last year was registered at the Provincial Exhibition at the Willows yesterday. A total of 3,085 paid admissions were sold, as compared with 2,426 for the same day in 1936, or a net increase of 659. As it is estimated there are five free admissions of non-holders and exhibitors for every paid admission, the gross increase over last year amounts to 3,295 persons.

REICH FEARS BOLSHEVISM

Hitler Declares Communism Most Disturbing Element In Europe

NUREMBERG, Sept. 13 (AP).—Reichschancellor Hitler closed the Nazi Congress tonight with a declaration Germany intends to intervene "wherever Bolshevism appears in Europe."

He declared Germany sides with the Spanish insurgents. "We cannot be indifferent as to who wins," he said.

The Fuehrer, in an address before 16,000 cheering Nazis, admitted Germany's trade relations with Spanish insurgent General Franco, and said Germany does not intend to surrender its interests in Spain.

FOLLOWS CONVICTIONS

Germany has acted according to its convictions in the same way that Great Britain has followed here, he said.

HEALTH SCHEME UP TO MEDICOS

President of Canadian Body Says Governments Should Be First Advised

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13 (AP).—Governments should go ahead with state-sponsored health insurance only after they have taken the advice of the medical profession as a body, Dr. T. H. Leggett, of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Medical Association, said today.

Speaking before the forty-fifth annual convention of the British Columbia Medical Association, the Ottawa physician said the scientific side of medicine and surgery "has made such tremendous strides in the last few years that it has left behind the economic side."

UNABLE TO DISTRIBUTE

"Medical men are unable to distribute benefits of medicine, surgery to the poorer man," he declared.

This, he said, had given rise to talk of government-sponsored health insurance, but such a step should be taken only after the governments have taken the advice of the medical profession.

The day must come, Dr. Leggett declared, when federation of doctors throughout Canada will become a reality. It is now, he said, to give united advice to any government on the question of health insurance.

NATION MOURNS ITS LIBERATOR

Dr. T. Masaryk, First President of Czechoslovakia, Dead of Pneumonia

PRAHA, Sept. 14 (CP-Havas).—Dr. Thomas Garrigue Masaryk, first President of Czechoslovakia, died early today at his home of pneumonia. He was eighty-seven.

Death occurred at Lany Palace after an eleven-day illness. The statesman, liberator of the nation carved largely out of the old Austro-Hungarian Empire following the Great War, suffered a stroke Sunday when it was believed he was on the road to recovery.

PREMIER AT RESIDE

President Edward Beneš, his successor and lifelong friend and associate in the struggle for Czechoslovak independence, was at the palace at the end with Premier Milan Hodza. Also in attendance was Dr. Masaryk, Czechoslovakian minister to Great Britain.

The nation was plunged into grief. Dr. Masaryk, beloved of his country, was formally vested with the title of "Liberator" when he retired from the presidency on December 12, 1935.

Crushed Between Icebergs

BARROW, Alaska, Sept. 13 (AP).—Soviet Pilot Basil Zerkoff and his hydroplane crew escaped unhurt yesterday when the plane was crushed between two large icebergs fifty miles north of Flaxman Island, off the North Alaska coast. Zerkoff and his crew were taken aboard the icebreaker Krassin, anchored nearby.

It was the second mishap experienced by Zerkoff, Siberian pilot in the Far North searching for the six missing Soviet trans-polar flyers. A few weeks ago he was forced down in the Arctic wastes while en route to the Krassin.

SEEKS CAPITAL FOR B.C. MINES

Premier Pattullo Tells Mining Men of Vast Unprospected Areas

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13 (AP).—Premier D. D. Pattullo today told a convention of Canadian and United States mining men that British Columbia wanted to encourage capital investment because a "great portion of its area was literally unprospected."

The Premier was addressing a luncheon meeting of the joint convention opened here today by the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy and the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

He said Fort St. James was located at the geographical centre of the province, but that almost the entire area north of that point was undeveloped.

Mr. Pattullo referred briefly to the proposed annexation of the Yukon Territory by British Columbia, commenting: "And we may go farther than that before we get through."

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

CHINESE CLAIM IMPORTANT NAVAL VICTORY

HONGKONG, Sept. 14 (AP).—Chinese warplanes and the guns of Hsueh Tigris forts at the entrance to the Canton River were reported today to have defeated a Japanese fleet in what was described as a major naval engagement.

BOMBS EXPLODED IN NEW YORK THEATRES

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP).—Stench bombs exploded in two more motion picture theatres tonight as members of the police bomb squad and the district attorney's office investigated last night's wave of bombings in which fifty patrons of Manhattan and Bronx theatres were hurt.

CHIEFTAIN STARRIED INTO SURRENDER

ISTANBUL, Sept. 13 (AP).—Starvation today forced the doughty and whitebearded Kurdish chieftain, Said Raza, to end his six-month rebellion against the Turkish Government and surrender with all his followers.

MONTANA CITY SHAKEN BY BLAST

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 13 (AP).—Butte and the surrounding vicinity were shaken tonight by a terrific explosion. Immediate efforts to determine its source were unavailing. Reports from Anaconda, twenty-six miles northwest of Butte, said the explosion was also heard and felt there.

FRENCH DESTROYERS LEAVE FOR PATROL

BREST, France, Sept. 12 (AP).—Three divisions of destroyers from the French Atlantic fleet loaded supplies and munitions last night, ready to join the anti-submarine patrol in the Mediterranean.

Hundreds of Refugees Killed And Wounded in Air Attack

SHANGHAI, Sept. 14 (AP).—China's massed Shanghai armies marched by the thousands into well-fortified, made-to-order defence lines today and dared the Japanese "big push" to come on. The move, involving a retreat to second lines trenching thirty miles northwest of Shanghai, was planned weeks in advance. It was an open secret to the Shanghai populace and the Japanese high command.

In their retreat, as in their month-long resistance to the Japanese military machine, Chinese once again upped the Japanese army legend that "Chinese always run."

Japanese troops and artillery tried to turn the retreat into a rout. But Chinese gave ground step by step, following precisely Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's general staff orders.

IN STRONG POSITION

Today the Chinese "Henderson line," prepared with advice of German military instructors, was set to inflict withering casualties on any Japanese attempt to blast through.

The line made a spear-head into Japanese terrain. It was out of range of Japanese naval guns in the Whangpoo and Yangtze which thus far protected all Japanese ground forces.

Due to the shape of the line, a wedge from Lotten to Luhu and from Luhu to Nansiang, Japanese must depend upon a frontal assault instead of flanking movements.

REFUGEES PILE INTO SHANGHAI

Horde of Hungry, Disease-Ridden Homeless Menace To Safety of City

SHANGHAI, Sept. 13 (AP).—Hungry, disease-ridden war refugees—1,500,000 of them—were packed into Shanghai's foreign settlements today. They constituted a menace to the city's safety paralleled only by the conflict between China and Japan.

Drained of funds, relief agencies feared increased cholera, smallpox epidemics, food riots, starvation, and all the misery and discomfort of a derelict population almost the size of international Shanghai's normal figure.

The staggering number of war victims was disclosed by W. H. Plant, a member of the International Settlement Municipal Council.

IN FEW SQUARE MILES

Plant, working with Chinese, British, French, and American, estimated the refugees are located in 150 refugee camps in the French Concession and International Settlement, which, combined, constitute only a few square miles.

The evacuation committee is seeking to charter steamships to move the refugees, but their efforts are failing for want of funds.

The foreign refugee problem is nothing compared with that of natives. Thus far, 4,000 British subjects, mostly women and children, have left; 2,000 remain. Americans have evacuated 2,200 and 2,500 left through.

ATTACK ON NEW JUDGE RENEWED

United States Supreme Court Justice Black Again Accused of Klan Membership

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP).—A sudden attack upon United States Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black developed today, one Democratic senator crying out "Reign" and another suggesting the justice should be driven from the bench if he held membership in the Ku Klux Klan.

Senator Royal R. Copeland, of New York, engaged in the fight of his life at a Tammany candidate for mayor of the city, reopened the campaign against Black which has begun before the confirmation to the court, demanding that Black quit "a once" the bench to which he had just been elevated by President Roosevelt.

In Massachusetts, Senator David I. Walsh quickly followed suit, asserting the President "should ask for his (Black's) resignation" if the justice had not ended any connection with the Klan.

Beautiful Arabian Horses Prove Big Show Attraction

Marvelously-Schooled Animals From Cimijotti Stables Win Enthusiastic Applause From Horse Show Patrons at Annual Willows Exhibition—Riding-Horse Classes Are Good

TEN beautiful purebred Arabian horses, marvelously schooled in the waltz, cakewalk, side-step, Dixie walk, two-step, polka, double cake-walk, Charleston, high-trot and various drill movements, were the highlight of the exceptionally interesting horsemanship programme given last night in the Willows Exhibition grounds.

These animals, part of the famous Cimijotti stable at Mason City, Iowa, are destined to be a great attraction all through Fair Week. Their performance, with musical accompaniment by the band, reveals a real sense of rhythm and melody. With the utmost grace and ease they change from one step into another, kneeling, crossing their front feet, majestically changing into rank formation to acknowledge applause, or sweeping in wide curves and closing in upon the pedestal to salute, with foot-upraised, the Canadian ensign.

Every step is a finished and beautiful movement, in which the skilful riders are a co-ordinate part. Little wonder that the horses have been so much in demand for fairs and circuses all over the continent. Some years ago they went to Toronto to perform before the then Prince of Wales and Premier Baldwin. Victoria last night was most enthusiastic.

MUST SERVE IN PENITENTIARY

Jack Robinson Sentenced to Two-Year Term on False Pretences Counts

Jack Robinson, known also as Jack Brown, will spend two years in the penitentiary on a series of offences involving the obtaining of money under false pretences. He pleaded guilty to six such offences in the Saanich court yesterday, when a special sitting was held.

All the cases were of similar character. He took orders for delivering wood, obtaining from the purchaser $10 in cash for the purpose of having a truck repaired which he said he had and would require to have refitted in order to deliver the wood.

HAD NO EQUIPMENT

The evidence offered was that he had no such truck and that he had no wood to offer. The accused had previously served six months on offences of an exactly similar character perpetrated in the city of Victoria and in Saanich last year.

The accused asked for a shortening of the term of two years so that he might not go to the penitentiary.

The magistrate refused to do so, saying he wished to have him go to the penitentiary. The terms were all made to run concurrently, so that two years will be the total time served.

manifest in the Jersey and Holstein entries, while several exceptionally good Clydesdales were displayed. Judges had not yet completed results on sheep. Thoroughbred, Arshires, Guernseys, and swine will be judged today, starting at 10 o'clock.

"This is the finest showing in the Jersey history of British Columbia," commented Prof. H. M. King, of the Department of Animal Husbandry, University of British Columbia as he surveyed the many cattle in this class yesterday.

Considerable interest was manifested in calf club entries. Here competition was particularly keen. The Langley Calf Club, beaten at the Vancouver Exhibition by the Saanich Calf Club, reversed the decision on their rivals.

TO BE GIVEN SHIELD

Competitors were present at a dinner given in the Douglas Hotel by the Saanich Jersey Breeders' Association last evening, and are to be given a silver shield, presented by the Jersey Farms, Ltd.

There was particularly strong competition in the heifer calf, senior class, which was won by Fawndale Vesta's Blossom, owned by Hugh Savage, of Ladner. Fawndale Lady Ramsay, entered by J. Grauer & Sons, Ltd., Eburne, was second; Fawndale Donna, an entry by the same firm, third. Mr. Savage's Fawndale Standard Mittie, fourth, and Fawndale Kay, another entry by Grauer & Sons, fifth.

Fawndale Murthorpe Sally, another Grauer entry, took first place in the heifer, junior yearling class, closely followed by Fawndale Colette, Signel from the same herd; Fawndale De-sign's Belle, entered by Mr. Savage, was third.

Grauer & Sons took the first three places in the class for cows, four years or over, with Lindell Wonderful Standard, Lindell Standard's Gwynne, and Lindell Sammaritan Belle. Financiers Good Gift, a Savage entry, was fourth.

MANY EXHIBITORS

In the class for bulls, over three years of age, Grauer's Lindell Le Rondin was first; Miss G. E. Moser's Babbacombe Le Rondin Blindie, second; Paul Motley's Standard of Highfield, third, and Colehill Cora's Gamble, fourth.

Other Jersey exhibitors included Mrs. G. O. Weller, Sooke; J. Robinson, Saanich; E. Raper, Mount Tolmie; R. Smart, Sevenoaks; R. Munro, Sidney; D. Lawson, Sidney; K. Burkinshaw, R.R. Particularly close competition was also found in the Holstein section, which was adjudged by H. L. Stevens.

Carnation Challenge, owned by J. W. Hoeford, Edmonton, was named senior champion bull, with Str. Kobe Laird, from the C.P.R. Supply Farm, Strathmore, Alberta, reserve champion. The C.P.R. entry Str. Kobe Aggie Lad was named junior champion bull under two years of age, with Colony Flood Perfection VIII, owned by the Colony Farm, Escondido, reserve champion.

SENIOR CHAMPIONS

The Colony Farm's Ianthe Tidy Colanthe was named senior champion cow, with J. Grauer & Sons' Fawndale Vesta's Blossom, reserve champion. In the junior section (under two years) the award was given to Str. de Winton Buttercup, with Colony Ianthe Hello Perfection in reserve.

R. Rendle and B. E. & J. W. Hoeford took prizes for their stock in other classes. Gold medals from the Clydesdale Association were awarded Colony Radiance and Colony Silverwood, best stallion and mare, respectively, entered by the Colony Farm. Others exhibiting winners included J. W. Munro, Carstairs, Alberta; Morreault & Plourde, Carstairs; J. Morrison; Barkerville; and G. E. Nelson, Saanich. Heavy horses were judged by George P. Jackson, Salmon Arm.

WILL SURVEY OUTER HARBOR REQUIREMENTS

Committee Named by Victoria Chamber to Make Full Report

REQUEST ACTION ON LONGSHORING ISSUE

A representative committee under the chairmanship of Captain R. W. McMurray was named by the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a meeting yesterday afternoon to make a full investigation of the harbor situation here, following a report of the special committee on dredging at the Outer Docks.

Under the name of the 1937 port development committee, the newly appointed body will make investigations during the coming year, and when a full report is available extensive improvements of the harbor, including the deepening of the Outer Harbor in the vicinity of the Rithet and Ogden Point docks, may be undertaken.

The committee was directed to "make a full survey of the entire problem of the harbor situation in Victoria, including the whole question of the difficulties met with by large liners in attempting to dock here in inclement weather." It was further instructed to give full consideration as to whether benefits from the proposed re-dredging scheme would justify the necessary expenditure.

RESOLUTION PASSED

The longshoremen situation in Victoria was stated to be not completely and permanently settled, and a resolution was passed by the directors asking what progress Mayor Andrew McGavin had made towards a complete solution, and recommending that Aldermen James Adam and Dr. J. D. Hunter be named a committee to investigate the matter. The chamber expressed itself as taking no definite position on the issue, but felt that any loss of trade to Victoria that might result from a failure to reach a satisfactory solution was to be avoided.

A request that the chamber support the municipality of Saanich in an effort to have a road built around Saanich Spit received considerable discussion, and was then awaiting further action of the Saanich Council.

The report of the special committee on bankruptcy proceedings, submitted by J. B. Clearhugh, K.C., in connection with legislation proposed last session by the Provincial Legislature, expressed the view that present administrative costs are not too high. The findings of the report were endorsed by the chamber directors.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

W. G. Stone, of the Government Employment Service, was present at the meeting and made a request that an advisory committee of the chamber be named to assist the Provincial Department of Labor in their private capacity make use of the Government Employment Service in hiring labor. The chamber ordered the naming of a committee to function in the matter.

Reports were received from G. Hamilton Harman on the Sooke Day celebration, at which he had officially represented the chamber; from Duncan MacBride on the visit to Victoria of members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and from Fred M. McGregor, representative of the chamber at the Pender Island District Agricultural Fair.

A letter was sent to R. W. Mayhew, thanking him for the interview

GRAIN MARKET PROBE IS OVER

Commissioner Turgeon on Way Back Home Aboard Empress of Australia

QUEBEC, Sept. 13.—An extensive probe of the overseas grain market completed, Hon. Justice W. F. A. Turgeon, Winnipeg, Canada's one-man royal commission on grain, is returning to the Dominion in the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia, due here Thursday. Before the Canadian jurist have appeared seventy-five witnesses in a number of British and continental sittings, all testifying as to the probabilities of selling more Canadian grain in their respective regions. Commissioner Turgeon will report to the Ottawa Government this fall on his findings.

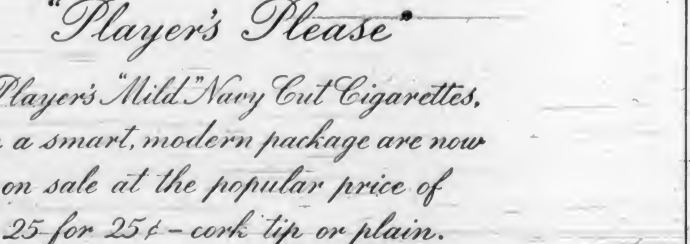

Right Rev. Hayward B. Ambler, Bishop of the Episcopal Church of Marquette, Mich., and W. Rupert Davies, publisher of The Kingston Whig-Standard, are on board.

DON'T BE SELFISH

The undersized husband was trying on the overcoat his wife had bought him for his birthday.

"You know, dear," he said, gazing at himself in the mirror, "this is a nice present and all that, and don't think that I'm ungrateful, but really, isn't it much too large for me?"

"I know, my dear," she returned. "But we can't help that. You must remember that it's got to cover the radiator of the car in cold weather. We have to consider that first, haven't we?"

Manufacturers' Building Offers Varied Exhibits

Merchandise, Wearing Apparel, Furniture and Heating Equipment Prominently Featured in Displays Arranged by Local Concerns at Willows—New Articles Make Appearance

WITH a varied assortment of merchandise, wearing apparel, furniture, heating equipment and building materials, the Manufacturers' Building at the annual Provincial Exhibition, being held at the Willows all this week, is a veritable paradise of the most modern and stylish goods, cleverly arranged with an appeal to the critical eye of local purchasers.

Possessing an instant attraction for the fair sex is the display of the Hudson's Bay Company, situated directly opposite the main entrance of the building. Its dazzling array of choice fur coats and furs in the trend of today, contrasted against a well-light background, and with mohair easy chairs and topped by a modern airplane which is run entirely from a separate radio cabinet. The world-wide telegraph service of the company, through the co-operation of the Canadian National, is demonstrated, as also are the 1937 automatic dial-controlled radios and powerful transmitting tubes.

FURS AND COATS
French seals, Hudson seals, silver foxes, stone martin, mink marmot and grey kid, in addition to Canadian squirrel and Scotch mole, comprise the varied assortment of furs and coats. Chic hats, with felt predominating, and stylish foot-wear, gloves and bags add a distinctive finishing touch which symbolizes the entire layout.

With radio-controlled aviation so much in the forefront today, the display of the Marconi Company is attracting considerable attention. The feature of this showing is a model airplane which is run entirely from a separate radio cabinet. The world-wide telegraph service of the company, through the co-operation of the Canadian National, is demonstrated, as also are the 1937 automatic dial-controlled radios and powerful transmitting tubes.

HARDWOOD FLOORS
The section occupied by the Vancouver Island Hardwood Floor Company features hardwood floors and floor renovation. John Manville Electric Limited, exhibit, which occupies a large section of the building. Radios, washing machines, ranges, refrigerators, health lamps of infra-red, ultra-violet, and violet rays, delight the eye of the visitor interested in things electrical.

Vacuum cleaners and beautiful lamps form another section of this electric display devoted to necessities of the modern home. Another booth demonstrates Kristallite, a finish for floors, wood-work, linoleum, etc.

Introduced into this country only recently from England is the Ionathine, the portable kerosene radiator, which forms a part of the Coast Hardware's exhibit. Aetna oil burners and improved Aerofume sawdust burners contain the latest advancements in systematic heating.

SLIDING OVEN
An oven floor that slides out when its door is opened is a very convenient arrangement of the Bunkin range on display. It simply slides out when the door is dropped, insuring easy access to whatever may be cooking within.

The Old English Beverage Company, Limited, displays its tasty wares in a concession convenient to all parts of the building.

Occupying more than half one side of the building is the brilliantly illuminated exhibit of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, Limited. Both gas and electric appliances form part of the elaborate display.

Findlay and Gurney gas ranges are carried in addition to Hotpoint and Moffatt electric stoves. Both General Electric and Westinghouse radios are shown to advantage. These machines contain the automatic dial control and are presented in attractive cabinet models. Vacuum cleaners and washing machines are listed for decreasing the work of the housewife.

GAS FURNACES
Gas furnaces and Magic Chef ranges form another section of the display. Occupying a prominent position with the standard gas furnaces are the water heaters and the new heating idea, suspension heaters.

The Holsum Packing Company, Limited, offers a tasty display of preserved fruit drinks. The jam is displayed in both the cans and bottles. Sweet cream, milk and butter are exhibited by the Fraser Valley Company.

Combined with Spratt's products is the exhibit of Scott & Peden, Limited, with a particular attraction for the farmer and gardener. Greenhouse feed and garden supplies are presented, while a prominent part of the exhibit is given over to a demonstration of farm necessities, milk and cream separators and milk coolers. Spratt's feature bird and fish food.

Articles made by disabled servicemen at the Red Cross Workshops, including cabinets, baskets, flower stands, linoleum and sheet metal work, a copper wood and coal box and fireplace curbs, speak well of the work of these veterans, many of whom work under severe handicaps.

Prominently displayed near the building's main entrance is an attractive group of oil-burners and Schemm circulating heaters by the Imperial Oil Company, Limited. This company offers up-to-date furnaces, with clean lines combined with a maximum of heat, through the use of oil.

Ready to Launch Actions Against Vessel Nuisances
HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 13 (C.)—Board of Health inspectors, armed with John Doe warrants, were ready today to launch actions against ship captains blamed for smoke and infra-red, ultra-violet, and violet rays, delight the eye of the visitor interested in things electrical.

LABOR CONGRESS OPENS SESSIONS
"closed shop" unions. The resolution affirmed the congress stand "in favor of liberty of organization, collective bargaining between employers and employees for the establishment of wages and hour conditions in the various industries and commerce."

The convention sent back to committee a resolution from the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council calling for preparation of a proposed bill for submission to the Dominion and Provincial Governments containing numerous features of the Wagner Labor Disputes Act of the United States.

GOVERNMENT AIR
A considerable debate arose in which David Wolff, of Montreal, opposed the resolution on the ground "the less we ask from governments the better off we will be." He said, "we ask governments to compel collective bargaining, they will compel us to do something we don't want. I intend the only agreements we can depend upon are those we gain through the economic strength of labor to compel."

The opposition was supported by President P. M. Draper, who said it was futile to attempt abolition of company unions "until we are strong enough to do so." He said, "any provincial government in this Dominion to accept these points," and passage of the resolution "would place an 'impossible task' on the shoulders of the incoming executive."

HOME LOAN PLANS
With little debate, the meeting adopted a resolution from the Alberta Federation of Labor approving in principle the Government's Home Improvement Loan plan, but urging the congress press upon the Government the desirability of making money available for such loans at an interest rate not to exceed 1 1/2 per cent in order to stimulate the building and allied industries "and provide needed housing."

Two resolutions regarding picketing passed with little contention. The first, from the Regina Trades and Labor Council, asked the congress executive to advise provincial executives on their course of action, and at the same time week through the Federal Government relief through the Criminal Code, which now allows picketing only for purposes of information and under the Civil Code which permits injunctions against picketing and civil suits against picketers.

Winnipeg Lodge, No. 35, of the Railway Carmen of America, heard approved its resolution asking congress to take steps if thought necessary to ease injunctions against picketing.

The convention, early in the day, heard Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, make a plea for forbearance and good will in industrial relations. The minister declared, "unless we are prepared to pay the price of regimentation and loss of freedom it would seem that industrial peace in the absolute sense is a very distant goal."

ROAD TO PEACE
He ventured to suggest that the real reason underlying much of the international friction of the day is to be found in the field of economics, and, if this be true, then the road to peace is the road to peace. Now, what can we do in this particular country to enable us to play our part in settling these aims?

"We have one special opportunity," as a British nation on the North American continent our entire economic policy can always be a useful contribution to British and American mutual good will. We can co-operate willingly with other nations in all international efforts to deal with such difficult questions as those of international currency and exchange. We have yet another contribution to make: immigration.

IMMIGRATION
"It never seems to occur to those who are violently opposed to immigration into Canada that there are countries in the world where the pressure of population on the means of subsistence is a very serious question. We have the undoubted right to choose our own methods of immigration and settlement, and to admit to the country, in any numbers, only those whom we believe to be suitable additions to our population. There is no question of re-appeal or of any nation for or any race involved; unchecked interchange of population is not in itself automatically desirable."

"We certainly have this duty, however. We must use the natural wealth which we have in this country to best advantage. We have no right, and should not be permitted, to attempt to hoard a continent with a handful of people. We can scarcely expect lasting safety on that basis. No one with the slightest knowledge can fail to realize that we can support this country, in circumstances of reasonable comfort, a much larger population than we now have."

"If this be true, then unemployment and the appearance of surplus population can only be the result of our public and private deficiencies. Our public policies must be wrong, and many of our individual citizens must be unable to adapt themselves to opportunity."

CANADA'S PART
"This, then, is my argument. This country must play its part in restoring world peace. Since world peace depends to a great extent upon the removal of international frictions, then we must be prepared to play our part in removing economic frictions. Even with the most generous international trade policy which we could adopt, our greatest contribution to this would be to offer in Canada a place for at least some of the surplus population of other countries. In order to do this

NORMAL SCHOOL STUDIES BEGIN

Principal V. L. Denton Addresses Sixty Students at Open Session

With an enrollment of about sixty, a few more than last year, the Provincial Normal School, Mount Tolmie, was formally opened at 9:30 yesterday morning when students were welcomed by Principal V. L. Denton and briefly addressed by each of the other members of the staff.

With the exception that special emphasis is being placed this year on the new curriculum methods and ideals, the class work is very similar to last year's. In his talk to the students, Principal Denton indicated the importance of taking the profession of teaching seriously and approaching the studies in that spirit.

Those who had just left college would soon realize that there was a marked difference between that and normal school, in the former subject-matter being the all-important thing, whereas in the normal school attitudes and methods of approach were primary. The various members of the staff introduced, including the two teachers in charge of the demonstration class which opened last week with a full enrollment: Miss Marion D. James and Miss Isabel Bescoy, the latter succeeding Miss Scanlon, who retired last term; the vice-principal, B. S. Freeman; Miss Nita Murphy, of the home-economics department; Miss B. E. Hinton, physical education; Mrs. Reese Burns, speech; Harold L. Campbell, John Gough and F. T. C. Wickert.

MAKES PLEA FOR ECONOMIC SANITY

end after the close of their own luncheon, John Cochran moved the vote of thanks, after Sir Edward had spoken before an attentive, appreciative audience.

CANADIAN PROBLEMS
Underlying the speech and emerging on the surface at several points was renewed advocacy by Sir Edward for unification of the management of the two great trans-continental railway systems in Canada, and adoption of a policy of renewed immigration, selectively applied, both suggested as contributions to Canadian economic progress, and the latter as a means of direct benefit to the world at large.

Removal of unnecessary trade restrictions, conscious efforts to understand economic needs of all countries, development in Canada of a national viewpoint above sectionalism, and the clearly expressed opinion that none of the world's problems was insoluble if nations followed Britain's lead to peace were other points touched on by the distinguished speaker.

Sir Edward spoke from manuscript, and adhered rigidly to his notes. He said in part:

RAILWAY POLICIES
"It has been my duty to warn this country against continuing certain wasteful transportation policies. I am afraid I have established the reputation of never addressing an audience in Canada without suggesting that the best thing to do is to unify for management our two railway systems. Unlike Calo, who advocated the destruction of Carthage, I am trying to preach something constructive—the removal of a public danger by good will and co-operation, and a measure of adding to the national wealth."

"The atmosphere and location of Victoria have turned my mind to the place of Canada in the affairs of the greater world, and with your permission I propose to venture very cautiously into the field of international affairs."

VICTORIA'S PLACE
"The location of Victoria might well provoke such ideas. Your city is far more than the capital of British Columbia and the commercial centre of Vancouver Island. It is far more than a beautiful Summer and Winter resort. Ideally located as a place of relaxation from the strenuous atmosphere of the higher altitudes of the Prairies, it is the very door of Canada on the Pacific and a main point in one of the greatest."

92 YEARS OLD—AND FIT AS A FIDDLE

Takes Kruschen Every Morning

"I feel in duty bound," writes Mrs. A. J. W., "to express my gratitude for the marvellous results my father has obtained from Kruschen Sals. He is ninety-two years old and is as fit as a fiddle. He can get around easily, and even run up and down stairs. His friends marvel why it is he is always alert, and never feels listless. He always tells them the reason: 'My regular use of Kruschen Sals in my first cup of tea every morning.'"

—Mrs. A. J. W.
"Most people grow old long before their time because they neglect one vital need of health—the need for internal cleanliness. Eventually they start the healthy Kruschen habit. Then, probably for the first time in their lives, they start getting rid every day of all waste matter from the system. Instead of being clogged the intestines are clean and clear. Instead of liver and kidneys being sluggish they are active and efficient. New healthy blood goes coursing through the veins—carrying health and strength and energy to every part of the body."

As your salary increases and you raise your standard of living, your life insurance protection should be raised accordingly. Then your family will not suffer too great a drop in their standard of living in the event of your death.

It is this natural desire to provide financial security commensurate with one's standard of living that explains why so many Confederation Life policies are taken by those who are already policyholders. They bought their first policy when they were comparatively young. Then, as their earning powers increased, they realized their greater obligations and knew that the easiest, quickest and safest way to meet increasing obligations was to increase their life insurance.

If you wish to have a Plan of Insurance to cover present requirements and to anticipate future needs, consult the Confederation Life about it.

DEAN QUAINTON'S RETIREMENT

Dean C. S. Quainton, who is resigning his charge in the Diocese of Columbia next week, has been in his present post of ministerial responsibility for twenty years and has been an influence in a variety of ways in the religious life of the Province, and particularly of Victoria and district. Deeply earnest, direct in his outlook, a student with catholic tastes and keenly concerned about the fortunes of his fellow men, he has brought to his incumbency here a practical Christianity that has won him a host of friends and admirers. His sincerity has grown more profound with the ripening years of experience. He shows always an omnivorous desire to acquire information and to pass it on to those to whom he ministers, a fact which has made his sermons differ from those of the stereotyped vein. He has the faculty of feeling about men and events in an arresting way, and throughout the manifold topics he has chosen to discuss during his ministry there has run a strong, resilient note of triumphant Christianity pointing the moral and adorning the tale of his utterances from the pulpit.

Dean Quainton believes that the Church has a mission in the amelioration of social conditions. In describing these conditions as he sees them, there are those who have thought that he is inclined to be too pessimistic in certain angles of his outlook. There is no doubt, however, of how deeply he feels on certain subjects, and where he has combined the social and economic aspects with the moral one he has done so because he believes it is a part of his mission to dwell upon the frailty of human institutions as well as the ineffable satisfactions to be found in spiritual worth. For him religion is many-sided; he considers it has features that go into the making of the whole temporal structure. Running through all his utterances there is evidence of the belief that there is no difference between the gospel of humanity and the Gospel of God, but it may be remembered that however much he chastises conditions as he sees them, and the causes which he believes lead to what he deprecates, he never forgets the power of the Redemption and its transcendent place in the scheme of life.

Dean Quainton has been a power for good in the community. It is rare in a diocese of such a small population that one gifted as he is should have devoted his talents, and with dynamic energy, over such a long term of years with such sustained energy. Whatever there is enervating in the climate of Victoria, it never has affected Dean Quainton's mental enthusiasm. He felt from the beginning of his charge here that he had a mission to fulfill, and he pursued his course without pause or slackening, and in the process proved successful in attracting a wider and wider audience. As a lecturer he has been greatly in demand, and this role he has filled with scholarly distinction. As a counsellor and guide to the parishioners of the diocese he has always been ready to lend the attentive ear and to extend the helping hand. Such an interpretation of his duties, inspired by the Christian principles that govern his life, has made him many close and loyal friends. The supporters of all Christian faiths in British Columbia will deeply regret his departure. He is broadminded enough to see excellences in the beliefs of churches other than his own, and in this respect has been an asset more than once in promoting unified Christian action. The Colonist, as well as so many others, shares in the hope that his retirement will bring him a deep peace of mind in the knowledge that he has been a true and faithful servant of the Almighty.

INADEQUATE EDUCATION

Mr. H. O. Wells has been telling the British Association that present-day educational methods are "useless and obsolete" and wholly inadequate to prepare the future citizen for his responsibilities in the modern world. The fact that such an opinion should be entertained at all in any quarter will come as a chastening influence to the pundits and doctrinaires who are pursuing conclusions infinite to find new ways to rack the youthful mind. There is, too, the opinion held by Rev. Philip Beatty, of Toronto, who has been speaking before the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada, and saying that students graduating from college today are more bewildered than when they entered.

The foregoing opinions would have very little value unless accompanied by some constructive suggestions. Mr. Wells recommends that education should put into force more comprehensive factual instruction "to overcome the appalling general ignorance of the realities of the world." Mr. Beatty wants the provision of religious teaching in the universities, or, failing that, active support of the Student Christian Movement. What is being done in the matter of a revision of educational courses is experimental and probably will continue to be such for a long time to come. There is more of a tendency in latter-day changes in the curriculum to endeavor to train students so that they will be conversant with modern day facts and problems. There is also a tendency to allow for greater specialization in the courses a pupil may take. These changes are accompanied by a gradual elimination of examinations, or, in other words, of the competitive spirit, and there is less homework than there used to be.

What can be done to correct what Mr. Wells believes is wrong can only be done in a very limited way. Knowledge latterly has become more widely spread, but there is far more to be known today than in the past owing to the advances made in civilization. The growth of new things to be learned, if there is to be real education, means a multiplication of courses, and perhaps it is too much learning and too little education that leave students bewildered and confused. Most of the education that gives anyone the ability to stand up to life in the chosen career comes after school and college days. It comes because of inherent abilities and the desire to go on learning, and it is the latter learning that should be the aim of organized education to develop. The "bread and butter" courses in the schools are rightly fitted, but they are too often restrictive in their influence on the general outlook. Perhaps this is why Mr. Wells alludes to "appalling ignorance" and why Mr. Beatty speaks of "bewildered" graduates.

Any form of education is inadequate unless it instills the highest principles of morality. Without those principles governing the acquisition of knowledge, any process of character formation in youth is at fault. A thousand and one books may be prepared by doctrinaires to show what education should be, but they fail in their purpose unless their keynote is moral principles. Mr. Wells is probably concerned mainly with the material ends of education in his belief those ends are not being attained because the future citizen is not being prepared adequately enough for responsibilities in the modern world. The answer to Mr. Wells in this respect is that in these days of specialization and vocational guidance there should be no reason for this lack of preparation. The fault, therefore, lies deeper. It goes to the very heart of education itself, which is inadequate because the highest principles of morality are simply regarded as a by-product instead of as the governing motive of making the best of citizenship.

FILMING LIMITATIONS

Moving picture interpretations of some favorite book or play often bring disillusion because of the liberties taken by producers. Those liberties are taken deliberately; the time element is the essential in film production, and, moreover, there are other limitations to which any scenario is subjected. The matters of taste and intelligence in presentation are often ignored, the plot is necessarily foreshortened, the whole is only a skeleton of what the author originally depicted. There are cases where it is hard to recognize a famous book when reduced to the limits of the film. The moving pictures have words and color and movement. Their essence is movement, which perhaps partly explains why no picture can be a good reproduction of its original in fiction or drama. The chief reason, however, for lack of true presentation is the time element; that is why violence is done in changing a novel into a moving picture and why there is so great disappointment when producers fail to catch the spirit of some famous book or play.

There are some world marks in sport which go unrecorded and even unclaimed. Recently Dr. P. O'Callaghan, a former Olympic champion, threw the sixteen-pound hammer a distance of 198 feet 8 1/2 inches, which beat the world record of 189 feet 6 1/2 inches held by P. Ryan, of the United States. The meet where this record was made was held under the Irish National Athletic and Cycling Association, which is not affiliated to the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

LOVE AND PAIN

It is not love that hurts men. The craving for love, the turning earthly and heavenly affection into merchandise, these hurt, and suffering hurts that we make our own; but the love that brings pain is itself pain. In the midst of longing, heart-singer, and the forms of selfishness that we dignify with such high-sounding names, there is one thing at peace. That is love. And about it the passions sweep, grudging, exacting, contenting with each other for their gains, but the prayer of love is not to receive joy, nor to escape from pain, only that it may give more, and give for ever—May Kendall.

ETERNAL IN THE HEAVENS

The little cares of home and home, Hung heavy as I trod the street; Then broke the bells of evensong Upon my heart in cadence sweet.

And lo, beyond the burdened trees, Beyond the dim and fading lands, Hung, shining like a perfect pearl, The house that is not made with hands.—Anon.

This is to remind you that this is Fair Week, and with fair weather there is no excuse for those able to attend not doing so. The Provincial Exhibition at the Willows has been built up through a series of years, and improved recently under the able direction of Hon. Dr. S. P. Tolmie, until today it affords an excellent opportunity for seeing a cross-section of the activities, not alone of Victoria but of her neighboring municipalities as well. Seeing a fair demands some little exercise of initiative. If you merely go round the various buildings, and attempt to get a bird's-eye view of everything, there is danger that you will become tired, without seeing any express exhibit that might interest you. It always seems to me that the comfortable pursuit to do is to pick out those pursuits in which you are interested, and examine those exhibits at the Fair first. In this way, if you are interested in livestock, start with that section of the exhibition. If you are interested in the art galleries, go to the photography, go to the art galleries; if machinery is your bent, try the manufacturing exhibits. In this manner you will commence with a subject that does interest you, and be led gradually on until you will discover you have seen a great deal that you were not aware existed here. When one stops to consider that hundreds of people have spent weeks in preparing to exhibit at this particular exhibition, it serves to show that their efforts are at least serious, and may have developed something of especial interest for you. I trained myself to see a fair accurately by walking all through the exhibition one year without seeing much that appealed to me, and then going back immediately to hunt up the exhibits that I would not see there. I don't miss the exhibition this week.

A concrete example of the cost of government was brought home to me this week, when I stood beside a billiard business as he opened up his Federal sales tax at 8 per cent. He showed me the account. It was for $314.50, with the Federal sales tax $25.16 on that sum. It was the present administration at Ottawa that boosted the sales tax from 6 to 8 per cent. I was then confronted with the problem of curing it, but my letter had been forwarded to Mr. (I have forgotten the name) in the Okanagan and I would hear from him.

Some weeks after I got a letter from the official in the Okanagan, who said I might grow and cure my own tobacco, but to think of doing it on a commercial scale was out of the question. He also hinted that if I grew and cured my own tobacco I might find it quite hard to acquire the taste for it.

In the face of all these adverse statements your article fills me with wonder.

YOUTHFUL VANDALISM

Sir:—A letter by W. G. Nettleship under caption "Street Nuisances," in Thursday's Colonist, is timely. As to vandalism and "children running wild in Victoria," I was up against that just a few days ago. I took a contract to repair and remodel a cottage and found that a score of windows had been broken between the time of looking over the job and starting—say thirty windows in all. The solution appeared to be a city school, some forty yards away. Sure enough, promptly at recess on the day of school opening a half-dozen boys came tearing across the lot from the school yard and proceeded to climb the apple trees, break the branches and knock the fruit down. They got the shock of their young lives when a carpenter hustled from the roof and bawled them out and gave them a lecture on stealing, trespassing and vandalism.

What struck me very forcibly was their amazement and actual resentment at being interfered with. I told them that if they were caught on private property again, something more drastic would happen. As they fled resentfully away, and there had been some rather lurid language, I could not forbear the following: "If any of the teachers should ask what all the noise was about, tell 'em this is the start of a brand new curriculum on behalf of the overburdened taxpayers."

IMPERIAL VETERANS

Sir:—Some erroneous statements have appeared in the local press recently concerning Imperial Veterans' matters. An article, referring particularly to Colonel Dingle, of Calgary, president of the Imperial Division of the Canadian Legion, calls for correction. Accordingly, the Victoria and District Council, Canadian Legion, would appreciate your insertion of the following passages of a letter received by this council a few days ago from Mr. J. R. Bowler, general secretary, Canadian Legion, which in some measure clarifies the situation. These passages follow:

There is certainly a great deal of misinformation in the press statement given by Mr. Reed. He is quite wrong as to the position of Colonel Dingle, of Calgary. The facts are that in or about 1921 an Imperial organization was formed under the name Imperial Veterans in Canada. This association obtained a Dominion charter. When the Canadian Legion came into being in 1925, negotiations were entered into with the Imperial Veterans in Canada with a view to amalgamation, and in 1925 this was brought about with the result that the Imperial Veterans in Canada, although still retaining their Dominion charter, became the Imperial Division of the Canadian Legion and have carried on in that door, safely but interestingly motionless; boots that can be counted upon to shuffle in a game of hide-and-seek with four toes and one big toe; and sandals that fly over the beach in a breathless race. Above the boots, of course, there are the faces. Kind faces for the most part; old faces, young faces and faces across which moods will fit like the passing of clouds from before the sun. These moods are readable to a "scout," and who knows what a world of adventure it gets from conjuring up the possibility of a sudden and unexpected decision to leave the house and go abroad, where "cougars" lurk excitedly behind every bush. A dog's life, but not one to be despised, the world being what it is, a life of adventure, mystery and affection—and who could ask more.

Hard to Lift

Aubrey defines a mortgage as something a man may carry with him being able to lift. A magistrate remarked that young criminals used to be the sons of poor parents. Horace replied that young criminals still have that kind of parents. We read that a Toronto shop sells scratching posts to the shops to doors for the convenience of cats. When Lord Asquith was Prime Minister of England, he stated that no politician should take more than twenty minutes to make an important speech. Today surprisingly few speakers have the ability to condense their remarks—much to the disgust of scribes.

Being an economic soul, Bill the Broad Street barber regrets to pay for the holes when purchasing doughnuts and spaghetti. Broad Street Bertie believes women think the meanest member of their sex is one who refuses to divulge a secret. Was air conditioning for trains perfected by a man who had extreme difficulty in prying open a window canopy.

Blame their wives for keeping them down. It is often a succession of down payments.—G.B.

Heavy Guns

Loueller than a Summer resort after Labor Day; a pedestrian on Douglas Street at 4:30, the night editor, or the last olive at a banquet, was Aubrey this very night, after the supplies of G. B.

For Aubrey, who is G. B.'s buddy, came in and gazed mournfully at the deserted desk, the battered eyeshade hanging from the desk lamp, the unusually tidy desk and the vacant chair, and shook his head. He said: "Well, sir, G. B. got married. I hope he'll be very happy now after this. I don't wonder. He was actually married." And he walked about the office a couple of times, and went mournfully on his way, a last remnant of that old gang, whose banner banners have been shredded by the heavy artillery of matrimony.

Not even the fastidious that he caught a couple of us on the spelling of "arsenapilla" cheered him up, and that is a particularly bad sign. Young Bob, near high school age, is considering a career. He informed me yesterday that truthful students of English make up their portfolios, while those not so careful of veracity become press agents. As the economists would say: here is an unearned increment on imagination.—B.G.

Racing Chatter

Earl Lewis, clerk of the scales at the Willows track for the present race meeting, tells us that the banglows at the local racetrack enclosure are the best to perform here since pre-depression days. Mr. Lewis has been with the racing game a long time and certainly knows his thoroughbreds, and when he says that, he means word of it.

Boy O'Mine appears to be back to form judging by his performance Saturday in the hurdle event. The former British Columbia champion broke on top and was always in front. Frisch, Calgary hardboot, riding at the Willows track for his first season, is Western Canada's leading apprentice and is headed for "big time" according to the boys who should really know. Johnny Craig-Myle, Victoria jockey, piloted Duplicity to the wire in the fourth race Saturday. The local boy gave his mount a good ride and his performance in the saddle certainly held matters. For you punters who have lucky hunches—number four was certainly the lucky number Saturday. Thoroughbreds carrying this number came home in front five times; finished second once and third once. Only in the initial gallop was number four out of the money.—S.T.

Glancing Over Sport

Dame football game in the Yankee Stadium on the afternoon of November 13. A crowd of 21,000 will witness the match according to the advance sale of sport tickets. Sports scribblers over the country are nominating Don Budge, the red-headed tennis comet of the year, for the Sullivan Memorial Trophy as the year's outstanding United States amateur athlete. The big baggy area likely to be affected by managerial changes between now and the start of the 1938 season is now confined mainly to Boston, Cleveland and St. Louis, of the American circuit. Bill McKechnie is expected to move from the Boston Beas to the Cleveland squad. NEW DELEGATES GRANTED SEATS
Amputations Society Welcomed Into Membership of Victoria Veterans' Council

The Victoria Veterans' Council met on Friday night in the quarters of the Imperial Veterans' Association, Room 225, Pemberton Building, with B. E. Seed, president, in the chair. Two new delegates were seated during the meeting from the Victoria branch of the Amputations Society. Considerable discussion took place on the subject of the Poppy Fund, with the issue to be considered at a later date.

It was reported that all Victoria branches of the Canadian Legion had been invited to join the Council, but that only three of the five branches had replied, and these had declined membership.

The member organizations of the Council were reported to be supporting the Imperial Veterans' All Arms Ball, to be held in the Empress Hotel on October 15. The next meeting will be held on October 8.

The Toast of New York Brings Life of Jim Fisk to Screen of Dominion

When a rival capitalist obtains the controlling interest in the Erie Railroad, Jim Fisk, one of the most colorful of the early captains of industry, merely has additional stakes issued, until he has enough shares to regain control. Mines Department Installs Diagrams Of Novel Interest

New Method of Illustrating Earth's Crust and Ore Genesis Attracts Much Attention From Visitors to Provincial Mineral Museum

TWO new wall diagrams, illustrating in a very simple and concise way certain essential points in geology as related to mining, particularly, have been added to the Provincial Mineral Museum, Parliament Buildings, recently, where they are attracting much notice and proving very helpful to visitors.

Entitled "The Earth's Crust Shown by Sectional Diagrams" and "Ore Deposits Shown by Block Diagrams," these diagrams have been constructed on a scale rarely attempted for this kind of thing, measuring four feet deep by twelve feet long.

In their present state these diagrams reflect the modern trend in the clear-cut simplicity. Such simplicity was achieved only after considerable thought and designing by members of the department's technical staff. Dr. John F. Walker, deputy minister of mines, first suggested the idea, and drawing a rough sketch, indicated to Dr. John S. Stevenson what might be done. Several small sketches were first made, and from these larger ones, to scale, the geological details being inserted for the final pattern. With the assistance of John M. Cummings, also of the department's staff, the design was worked out on a basis of temperature, which is used in the diagrams, being cut and given to a paperhanger piece by piece, to give in its proper position.

EARTH'S OUTER SHELL
The generalized diagram of the earth's crust is an attempt to show without too much detail or reference to any particular locality, the generally accepted ideas concerning the outer shell of the earth, the result being a picture that has been built up by geologists from the great body of detail revealed by studies of surface rock-outcrops, of underground mine workings and of the borings from deep oil-wells.

The first diagram shows the different types of rock groups that make up the earth's crust and their relation to one another. A large central mass commonly known as a batholith, of igneous or granitic rock is shown as having come from deep below the earth's surface and melted its way through the superimposed surface of sedimentary rocks of gneiss, schist, conglomerates, sandstones, shales and lime-stones. The relation of rocks such as granite, pegmatite, and other dykes to the parent batholith is also indicated. The drawing of a volcano, with its feeding fissure, and alternating beds of lava and tuff, indicates contemporaneous geological activity.

ORE DEPOSITS
The second diagram, "Ore Deposits Shown by Block Diagrams," shows various types of ore deposits

ADDRESSES HONOR DEAN

Ministers and Laymen Pay Tributes to Very Rev. C. S. Quainton

A representative gathering of clergy and laymen paid fitting tribute to Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, dean of Christ Church Cathedral for more than twenty years, at a luncheon held in Spencer's dining-room yesterday. The Dean, with Mrs. Quainton, will leave for England next Tuesday.

Under the chairmanship of Rev. Dr. A. S. Inrie, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association, the ministers were unanimous in voicing their appreciation of the Dean's work in the score of years he had served here, wished him and Mrs. Quainton God-speed on their journey, and expressed a desire that he might return to Victoria, if even for a short time, at a later date.

Speaking on behalf of the Anglican clergy of the Diocese of Columbia, Archbishop Nunn commented on the leadership that the Dean had given throughout the years to the ministers of his own church in the city. He read an extract of a letter from Bishop H. E. Sexton which expressed a feeling of regret that the Dean was leaving.

REV. FATHER WOOD
Rev. Father A. B. Wood, of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Victoria, one of the few clergymen still in active work who came to the city before the Dean, spoke of his close association with Dean Quainton in the earlier days of church life here, and of the fine spirit of fellowship and co-operation that had prevailed since that time. "It would be hard to imagine what Victoria would be like without the Dean," he declared.

In a brief survey of the Dean's activities in the social services of the city, Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., stated that the city owed a great debt to the organizational and inspirational leadership that he had given in this field.

Viewing the Dean's work from another angle, Gilbert G. Fraser spoke for the laymen of Christ Church Cathedral and the city, and declared the emphasis the Dean had placed on establishing real fellowship with the members of his congregation had been most valuable.

VOICE APPRECIATION
Rev. A. deB. Owen, another pioneer in church life here, gave a brief account of the reception service that had greeted the Dean on his arrival twenty years ago.

On behalf of the United Churchmen of Victoria, Rev. Dr. J. K. Unsworth expressed the appreciation of all Victoria churchgoers for the unification, among the various Christian communions, that had been wrought here through the efforts of Dean Quainton. He drew special attention to the Ministerial Fellowship of earlier years, the more recent Week of Witness, and the evangelistic missions that the Dean and Rev. E. F. Church, formerly of this city, had conducted here and at Up-Island points. Rev. E. MacQueen spoke in similar vein for the Presbyterian churches, as did Rev. George Reynolds for the Baptist communion.

In a short reply to the many tributes paid him, Dean Quainton declared that he looked back with mixed feelings on his long ministry here, and stated that it had made many times that he wished to break. In answer to the wish expressed by many of the speakers that he return to Victoria, he said there was a possibility he might again visit what he termed "my never home." As a closing admonition to ministers, he stressed the need of an emphasis on evangelism on the part of those who would uncover the truths of the Christian faith.

Canadian Seiners Reported Fishing Illegally Inside U.S. Territorial Waters

SEATTLE, Sept. 13 (AP)—E. M. M. Benn, state fisheries inspector, said today he saw fourteen Canadian fishing boats fishing within the American three-mile limit during a three-hour flight.

Benn returned today aboard the Canadian purse seiner Beale Mac, which was seized by coast guardsmen August 31, and its crew charged in Clallam county with fishing without a license.

The seizure near Cape Rock came after Benn's flight, August 31, in a plane piloted by Lieut. K. P. May, of the coast guard's Port Angeles base, Benn said.

He verified the Canadian registry of fourteen boats he observed, and said many others had their names covered with canvas.

PICTURES TAKEN
Benn said he saw the Beale Mac taking salmon about four miles north of La Push. He said the coast guard photographer took pictures.

The plane in which Benn was riding then flew back over the coast guard base to La Push and dropped a note to Eric Reuthecrona, officer in charge. Reuthecrona immediately put out after the Beale Mac, then

PULLED INTO TAIL STRUTS

"Bail Out" Ended Fatally
When Flyer's Parachute
Opened Too Quickly

PORT TOWNSEND, Sept. 13 (P)—Captain Joseph A. Adams, United States Marine Corps Reserve pilot, who escaped from a burning plane two miles off the port yesterday, described today the tragedy which took the life of his companion, John Bilborow, twenty-seven, Seattle bank clerk and technical sergeant in the marine corps reserves.

Captain Adams narrowly escaped death by jumping from an altitude of only 500 feet. The plane exploded a second later. A tugboat rescued the officer from Puget Sound within twenty minutes.

Bilborow had bailed out on Captain Adams' orders, but his parachute opened before he was clear of the ship, pulling him through the tail struts and apparently knocking him unconscious.

BURST INTO FLAMES
Captain Adams said the plane suddenly burst into flames as they were cruising at an altitude of 2,500 feet with two other ships on a training flight.

"The whole ship seemed to be on fire," he said. "I shut off the motor and told Bilborow to jump. I heard a thump at the tail of the ship, but a moment later saw the parachute descending."

"I turned on the automatic fire extinguisher, while gliding in a circle to come back to the approximate place where Bilborow would come down on the water. The fire subsided, but it broke out again so I climbed out on the wing and jumped. The plane nosed into the water and exploded as it hit the waves."

Bilborow's body has not yet been recovered.

Nanaimo Council Is Raising Rates

NANAIMO, Sept. 13 (P)—The City Council, by a unanimous vote tonight, authorized its legislative committee to rush through an amendment to a by-law to raise water rates by 50 cents per month to each consumer in conformity with the council's six-year plan to raise a sufficient sum to complete a pipe line to the South Forks dam.

The council may call a public meeting to acquaint the ratepayers with details of the scheme, but no plebiscite will be taken, the board decided.

LONDON, Sept. 13 (P)—Sir Plunket Barton, Irish lawyer and writer on historical subjects, died here Saturday. He was eighty-three. Sir Plunket in 1880 was private secretary to the Duke of Marlborough, when the latter was Lieutenant of Ireland, and later served in a similar capacity Lord Ashborne, Lord Chancellor of Ireland.

Triumphal Entry Into Captured Town

Insurgent troops, led by a single brass horn, nevertheless made a triumphant entry into the town of Reinos, Spain, as they approached the seaport city of Santander. A few days later, Santander fell into General Franco's hands when his "Fifth Column," made up of rebel sympathizers within the city, suddenly seized control, forcing the defenders to flee or surrender.

Unsuccessful Challenger for America's Cup Can't Help Talking About Yacht

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Sept. 13 (P)—Thomas Octave Murdoch Sopwith, twice unsuccessful challenger for the America's Cup, came here today full of praise for Ranger, the class "J" sloop which Harold S. Vanderbilt sailed to four straight triumphs over Sopwith's Endeavour II in defending the international yachting trophy for the third straight time.

"She's a yacht such as can be produced possibly once in a lifetime," said Sopwith, then added, in reply to a question whether he would challenge again, "a lot of water will have to flow under the bridge, because at the moment we haven't a boat capable of defeating Ranger."

Sopwith, millionaire British sportsman and airplane manufacturer, praised the hospitality extended him in the United States, expressed disappointment at the fact that he didn't bring back the cup, but said, "I can't help talking about Ranger."

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 13 (P)—Queen Alexandrine of Denmark was operated upon tonight for a stomach ailment. A bulletin from the hospital at Skagen, her summer residence, did not detail her condition.

Change Barber Rules—Provincial health regulations dealing with barber shops were again amended yesterday by Provincial order, to reward some sections of existing rules dealing with sanitation and hygienic methods in dealing with the public.

Bush Fire—The city fire department was called at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to put out a bush fire at Wilson and Russell Streets. The firemen extinguished the flames after an hour's work. At 3:24 o'clock they put out a small sawdust fire at the corner of Store and Chatham Streets.

Improving Streets—The Equimault Council last night endorsed suggested improvements to the end of Constance Avenue, and is considering further improvements to Armit Road. The condition of the sidewalk on Admirals Road is also being investigated with a view to making any improvements found necessary.

Praises Union—In a report to the Equimault Council last night, Reeve Alexander Lockley, delegate to the recent conference of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Nanaimo, paid high tribute to the work of the organization, stating that it was of inestimable service both to the municipalities and to the Provincial Government.

To Take Action—Councillor Albert Head, of the Equimault Council, last night urged on the body the necessity of eliminating parking on Park Place because of the obstruction offered by parked cars to the passage of fire trucks. He also pressed for a clean-up of the grounds of Saxe Point Park. Action will be taken on both issues.

To Join Air Force—Bill Epley, well-known motorcycle speedster, left here recently for England via New York to join the Royal Air Force. Mr. Epley is traveling through the United States and is expected to reach New York on Friday. He has taken a prominent part in motorcycle racing in the city for several years, winning numerous events.

Studying Trade Move—Members of the Provincial Government declined comment yesterday on private advice stating Japan had removed further duties from import of wood pulp for production in the Far East. The Province has no control over timber on Crown grants. It was pointed out that wholesale export of British Columbia raw logs, however, is not being anticipated.

Make Progress—A late report from the Y.M.C.A. first aid booth at the Provincial Exhibition last night showed the membership renewal campaign now in progress in connection with the booth had, to date realized $274 for Division "A" and $239 for Division "B." Division "B" led in numbers of renewals, having obtained twenty-four, two more than the number obtained by Division "A."

Pigeon Born—Dumb Dora, 650-pound Yorkshire sow owned by Hays & Co., Calgary, on Sunday evening became the proud mother of sixteen pigelets. Unfortunately big Dumb Dora stepped on three of them, leaving thirteen. Also born at the fair was a calf to Killarney Brownie, two-and-a-half-year-old. Ayrshire belonging to H. G. Cuth & Sons, of Murrayville, B.C. Both are in good health.

Severs Artery—When the bicycle he was riding collided with a car driven by Lum Tang, 846 Yates Street, Leonard R. Luxton, aged twenty-one, 1255 Johnson Street, received a severed artery and cuts on the forearm, according to a police report. Luxton's arm went through the rear window of the car as Tang was backing out from the curb on Yates Street, between Blanshard and Quadra Streets. The young man was removed to Jubilee Hospital.

Premier on Mainland—Premier Pattullo was on the Mainland yesterday for a brief visit in the course of which he may meet Hon. T. A. Cregar in an informal discussion over the Yukon annexation issue. Hon. K. C. Macdonald left for Vancouver, where today he will meet Fraser Valley milk producers over the breakdown in milk marketing regulations. Hon. Dr. G. M. WALLACE BEERY SHOT BY BLANK CARTRIDGE

CULVER CITY, Cal., Sept. 13 (P)—Wallace Beery shot himself in the leg today—with a blank cartridge. Portraying a bad man in the early West, Beery rushed into a room with two six-guns blazing. He tripped. A wad from one of the blanks embedded itself above the knee cap.

WHAT PRICE GLORY
The nice lady entered the restaurant and ordered an omelet. The waiter took the order.
"I'm sorry to have to explain, madam," he said, "that the price of omelets has been raised. It's on account of the war, you know."
"My goodness!" exclaimed the nice lady, "are they throwing eggs at each other now?"

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

No matter how much you backbite and your tongue is sharp, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month. Too often the honeymoon euphoria is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain. For three generations a woman has sold another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature keep the system, thus insuring the disappearance from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three-quarter of life. 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "smiling through."

Social Activities and Notes of Personal Interest

Wedding Is Of Interest In Victoria

The marriage was solemnized with full military honors in St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, Ont., Tuesday, September 7, at 3 p.m., of Marjorie, second daughter of the late Mr. J. Calder Waugh, Winnipeg, and Mrs. Waugh, Rockland Avenue, Victoria, and Col. Edward C. O. Chambers, R.C.E., M.C., of Ottawa, son of the late Col. and Mrs. Edward Chambers, Weybridge, Surrey, England. A profusion of blossoms in autumn tones decorated the cathedral.

ATTRACTIVE BRIDE

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Major Christopher Vokes, wore a period gown of ivory tulle with a full skirt and a high line merging into a full court-train. The bodice showed a cowl drapery in front and low décolletage in the back. She wore a veil of tulle secured to her hair with a crystal coronet.

She was attended by Mrs. Kenneth Henderson, Ottawa, as matron-of-honor, who wore turquoise crepe with brown hat and carried a bouquet of zinnias.

A reception followed at the residence of Brigadier and Mrs. W. D. Anderson.

TO LIVE IN OTTAWA

Col. and Mrs. Chambers left by motor for Quebec and other Eastern points, the bride traveling in a grey wool tailored frock with green tweed coat and green hat. They will reside in Ottawa.

Col. Chambers, like his bride, is well known in Victoria, having been stationed with his regiment, the Royal Canadian Engineers, at Work Point Barracks, until his transfer to the East last year.

Mrs. Waugh, the bride's mother, chose pearly purple chiffon with matching hat and corsage bouquet of Tullian roses. Mrs. Vokes, the bride's sister, was in a black crepe frock and hat and wore a corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Clubs-Societies

Cheminus W.A.

St. Michael and All Angels' Branch of the W.A. met recently in the parish hall, Cheminus, with Mrs. H. E. Knight in the chair. The church committee reported that the church foundations were badly in need of repair, and that it was their intention to endeavor to raise funds during October by a special entertainment, details of which had been left in the hands of the wardens, but to supplement their efforts, they asked if the W.A. would consider a harvest home supper, to be held on St. Michael and All Angels' Day, in conjunction with the social and special services that day. The W.A. was asked to take charge of the social programme. It was agreed that supper would be served on Wednesday, September 29, from 5 to 6:30 p.m., and an entertainment after the church service, at 7:30 p.m. Messdames Saunders and Aiken agreed to convene the programme. A committee will meet on Thursday afternoon to arrange details. An appeal is being made for clothing for the stricken prairie area, and any donations may be left at the vicarage. Further details were arranged with respect to the sale of work, which will be held in November. Any donations of work or novelties will be gladly received by Mrs. W. Rice, convenor. Messdames Rice and Saunders served tea at the close of the meeting.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Tuberculosis Veterans held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ann Fournier, George Road, recently with Mrs. Burnett, president, in the chair. A report on the standard recently purchased by the W.A. for the Tuberculosis Veterans was given by the secretary, Mrs. Campbell. A contest is being held at the Provincial Exhibition to raise funds for tubercular work in connection with the W.A. A special tea will be held in the T.V.A. clubrooms, 812 Blanshard Street, on Wednesday, September 22, from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock. A musical programme is being arranged for this annual affair. Great regret was expressed at the news that Mrs. W. H. Booth, past president, is seriously ill in Port Alberni. The secretary was instructed to send her a message of sympathy, together with a small gift. An interesting report of the convention was given by Mrs. D. W. Burnett, delegate. The next meeting of the W.A. will be held at the home of Mrs. Fletcher, 1320 Grant Street, on October 14, at 2:30 p.m., when final plans for the bazaar will be held. The meeting agreed to the undertaking and decided to hold a flannel dance on September 17 to raise funds for the purpose. Mrs. McIntosh reported that the table had not yet been purchased, but that selection would be made during the month. Details for the dance were arranged, including tickets and music. Mrs. Clegg, catering, Mrs. Adams, tables, Mrs. Finlayson, and supper room, Messdames Milmore and Phillips. The president reported that the Japanese women had undertaken the sewing of a number of pyjamas and nightgowns. A special cutting-out meeting was arranged, children's gowns and other items being urgently needed. Mrs. Adams, sewing convenor, will be glad of any assistance with the sewing. During the tea hour, Miss Whittaker, the matron in charge, was welcomed by the meeting, and was a guest at tea.

Cheminus Hospital Auxiliary resumed its meetings last week. Mrs. McIntosh, the president, in the chair. The special July meeting was to consider the advisability of purchasing an operating lamp. The meeting agreed to the undertaking and decided to hold a flannel dance on September 17 to raise funds for the purpose. Mrs. McIntosh reported that the table had not yet been purchased, but that selection would be made during the month. Details for the dance were arranged, including tickets and music. Equimault League The Equimault subdivision of the Catholic Women's League held its first meeting of the season, with Mrs. C. H. Gilling, president, in the chair. Several important matters were dealt with, including the diocesan board convention, which will take place on October 28, and plans for entertaining the delegates were discussed. Arrangements were completed for the elderdown contest at the Willows Fair during the week. Mrs. Spencer, 825 Equimault Road, has kindly offered the use of her home for two card parties to be held on September 20 and October 11. Card parties will be held at various dates during the winter months, and a box of groceries will be awarded to the person holding the highest score at the end of the season. It was decided to provide a banner of the subdivision to be used at the Eucharistic Congress, which will be held in the city next year. The annual bazaar will be held on November 4.

Screen Star and His Wife

MR. AND MRS. WARREN WILLIAM
Holidaying here from California, pause for a photograph in the garden of the Empress Hotel, where they are staying. The screen star and his wife have been fishing at Campbell River and doing a little yachting round the Gulf Islands.

Duncan W.A. The Duncan United Church W.A. started their Fall activities with a tea in the church hall on Friday afternoon. There was a good attendance of ladies who listened with much interest to Dr. Henrietta Anderson, Victoria, who gave a splendid address on "Progress." Miss May Tombs, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Piper, sang two numbers. The tea tables, with their pretty decorations of cosmos, were arranged by Mrs. C. B. Mains and Mrs. F. Driver. Mrs. J. Seifert decorated the hall. In charge of tea preparations were Mrs. Harry Clark and Mrs. Peter Flett, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Gledhill, Mrs. G. Colborne, Mrs. N. Melvor, Mrs. G. A. Harris, Mrs. H. Homewood, Mrs. 42 Dilmor, Mrs. G. Boyer and Miss J. Britton. Mrs. E. W. Lee sold tea tickets. The president, Mrs. T. C. Robson, presided and was general convenor.

Salt Spring W.A. The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Anglican Church took place at Ganges House following the Summer vacation. The president, Mrs. H. Moorhouse, was in the chair. The treasurer's report showed the sum of $128 in the bank. It was decided to hold a military whist drive at the Mahon Hall tomorrow evening, with a hostess for each table. It was also arranged to hold a social and musical evening at Harbor House in November. The programme to be drawn up by Mrs. G. B. Young. A refreshments committee will be elected at the next meeting. As $27 is due for taxes on St. Mark's Church, the members voted the sum of $21 towards the amount. Tea hostess for the afternoon were Mrs. Popham and Mrs. W. Norton.

Chummy Club The first meeting of the 1937-38 season of the Metropolitan Chummy Club was held at the home of Mrs. A. Curtis, 1326 Vimy Street. Mrs. C. Curtis, president, opened the meeting and Rev. A. E. Whitehouse introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Archie Wilks. Mrs. Barnett introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Albert Sullivan, who gave an educational talk on his trip to the British Isles during the Coronation. Refreshments were served.

Columbia W.A. The Diocesan Board of the Columbia W.A. will meet on Friday, at Michaels, Royal Oak, commencing with a corporate Communion service at 10:30 a.m. Special buses will leave the Vancouver Island Coach Lines Depot at 10 a.m. Speaker at the afternoon session will be Rev. Canon Wickham.

Canadian Daughters' League The social meeting of Canadian Daughters' League, Assembly No. 5, will be held in the Shrine Hall on Thursday at 8 p.m. Cards will be played and refreshments served. Arrangements have been made to hold a bridge tea in Spencer's dining-room Friday, September 24, at 2:30 p.m.

Princess for Fall HERE'S a black rayon jersey Autumn dress that you can wear right now. This fitted and flared Fall silhouette is inspired by princess lines you found so figure flattering. It's extreme, too, in velvet or plaid wool for back to college. It's easy as A B C to put this one-piece model together, no bothersome waistline seams to join. A diagrammed sewing guide included. Style No. 3382 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years; 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 38-inch material, with 7/8 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

The Summer Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

Bursary Is Presented By Nurses

Miss E. Copeland was presented with the $100 bursary of the Jubilee Hospital Alumnae at the meeting held by the alumnae at the Jubilee Hospital Nurses' Home last evening. Mrs. J. Russell making the presentation, which was accompanied by a corsage bouquet. Miss Copeland is taking the public health course at the University of British Columbia this year.

A resolution was passed governing the rule for the administration of the sick nurses' assistance fund. The final date for the bursary application was extended to March 1 in order that the bursary may be presented at the graduation exercises.

Plans were made for the annual tea and bazaar on October 20 at the Nurses' Home from 3 to 6 o'clock, at which there will be the usual stalls of candy, novelties, home cooking, handkerchiefs, and a fish pond. The next social meeting will be held on October 4, at which there will be a handkerchief shower for the bazaar.

Mrs. G. M. Duncan is convenor of a telephone bridge party to be held from November 15 to 20.

Weddings THOMSON-RHODES Rev. A. S. Imrie, D.D., assisted by Rev. G. A. Reynolds, officiated at the marriage of Ethel, eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Rhodes, Victoria, and Mr. George Alfred Thomson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Thomson, New Westminster, which took place in the Anglican Cathedral last evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Harold Parfitt sang "Because" as the register was being signed, accompanied by the church organist, Miss W. Scowcroft, who also played the wedding marches.

Tall baskets filled with assorted autumn flowers were used in decoration of the church, and posies of small mixed flowers tied with white satin ribbon marked the guest pews.

Mr. James Rhodes gave his niece in marriage, and she looked pretty in a gown of ivory satin with a slight train and long sleeves puffed at the top. Her veil, which she wore over her face as she entered the church, was arranged with a strand of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Miss Annie Rhodes, sister of the bride, dressed in delphinium blue taffeta, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Hilda Thomson, in pink, were bridesmaids. Their frocks were fashioned alike, with close-fitting bodices and full skirts trimmed with several rows of shirring, and they wore poke bonnets to match their frocks trimmed with ribbons in contrasting colors. They carried bouquets of pink carnations tied with pink and blue ribbon, respectively.

Mr. A. H. Thomson supported his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Henry Renfree and Mr. Ernie Lindley.

A reception was held after the service in the Sunday school room, during which the bride and groom stood beneath a floral arch. The guests were received by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. E. Rhodes, who was dressed in brown crepe de Chine and a matching hat, assisted by Mrs. Thomson, in a frock of navy blue and white figured crepe de Chine and a white hat. They both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations. Tall pink tapers at each end of the supper table cast a glow over the pink and white wedding cake, which stood on folds of pink tulle in the centre between cut glass vases of pink carnations and similar.

After a honeymoon on the Island, for which the bride left in a green knitted suit, a beige coat and brown accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Thomson will make their home in New Westminster.

NEW PORTFOLIO IS MADE READY

B.C. Minister of Trade and Commerce to Be Created At Coming Session

The British Columbia Government's ninth separate portfolio, that of the proposed Department of Trade and Commerce, will be set up at the coming session of the Legislature, Premier Pattullo reiterated yesterday. The work of the public bureau with respect to tourist trade, and the staff of the economic council will both come under the new department, the Premier intimated.

A draft of the Department of Trade and Commerce Bill has already been made ready by the Government, and will be one of the early measures to be introduced into the House, when the Legislature convenes for the first session of the new Parliament late in October.

MANY PROSPECTS
Meanwhile, twenty-three names have been submitted to the Premier as suggested material for the new ministry of Trade and Commerce. In the choice of his own Cabinet, however, the Premier is supreme, and the final choice, when made, will be his own.

Defeat of Byron I. Johnson, Liberal candidate in Victoria, and S. S. McKee, Liberal candidate in a Vancouver riding, deprived the Government of two men most often mentioned as eligible for the portfolio. Since then the names of H. G. Perry, former Speaker, and of George M. Murray, re-elected for Lillooet, have been unofficially mentioned in connection with the post.

The Premier, however, has kept his own counsel, and when the choice is made, it will be announced by himself.

'This I warn you, is a thoroughly immortal tale,' the protagonists of evil, in the form of bad bidding, came to a good end, temporarily. In a sequel I may be able to show that pride went before a terrific fall. After all, North figured, he had both majors, a singleton, and a 42 ticket to win on Grandpa's Boy, which had come to him."

My correspondent's sprightly comments need no elaboration. It must have been quite a shock to Becky Sharp (reincarnated) for the opponent to have romped home with their three no trump contract against her comparative power-house and her partner's spade bid. On the face of it West had at least five trifling tricks, but the trouble was that she couldn't cash them in the moral. If any, is that psychic overalls, such as East's, rarely come to a good end.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

MEASURING POWER AND SIZE OF THE HEART

About the simplest test for finding out the strength of the heart is to have the patient walk upstairs at a certain rate of speed or run in the one spot (stationary running), or touch the toes a number of times within a given time; then have him rest and see how long it takes the heart to come to its normal rate. If it comes back to its normal rate of seventy-two, seventy-six, eighty, or eighty-four, as the case may be, within one to two minutes, according to amount of exercise taken, the heart is considered normal.

Should there be a heart murmur present due to some former inflammation of the valves, yet the heart comes back to normal in the usual time—speak of the heart as being "compromised"; that is, the heart muscle is able to compensate or make up for the leak in the valve which causes the murmur. Thus a heart with a leaky valve, but well compensated, is felt to be as good as a normal heart as far as doing its work is concerned.

Another test made by the physician is to palpate or tap the skin over the heart with the fingers. Naturally the sound from a solid tissue like the heart is going to be different from the hollow sound which is given out as the physician taps the chest with his fingers. By noting the flat sound made over the heart and noting when the hollow sound from the lungs appears, the physician can "pick out" on the chest wall the actual size of the heart, whether or not it is enlarged, and if enlarged, in which direction. Often he marks the skin with a pencil showing the exact size of the heart.

However, just as the X-ray of the chest as a whole reveals evidence of heart or active tuberculosis of the lungs, so will the X-ray show the size of the heart, and the physician is actually able to make measurements of the heart and make a complete outline of the heart on a sheet of paper.

You can readily see that in addition to giving exercise to

SPANISH ONIONS
When shopping this morning I called at a shop for vegetables. A boy of just over fourteen years came to serve. I asked for one pound of Spanish onions. With a look of surprise, he said: "Ain't got any, lady; they ain't got time to dig 'em up. Don't you know there's a fight on in Spain?"

"Just as I thought. Too old to learn."

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If September 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m., and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Do not trust too much to your eyesight this day, for it might prove deceiving, especially in guessing at measurements. It will pay to be accurate, so avoid haphazard methods, particularly in the kitchen. There may be attempts made to use poor substitutes in the preparation of foodstuffs, building materials and essential supplies, so keep your eyes open and refuse to accept them. Honesty will be not only the best, but the advisable policy to pursue. If this day is to turn to be a satisfactory one for you, some theories may be all right, but few are likely to work out successfully this day, which makes it expedient to do things by accepted methods with a record of good results back of them. Married and engaged couples, as well as those in pursuit of happiness via the matrimonial route, should count their blessings rather than fancied grievances before complaining this day.

If a woman and September 14 is your birthday, you are apt to go to extremes in many ways. It will be good judgment and help make you happier if you try to correct this characteristic, should it exist. You may be also very frank. Frankness ceases to be a virtue if it sears the heart and soul by its ruthlessness. You ought to have great money-making possibilities through the possession of a vast amount of energy and enterprise. You can develop a wonderful personality by which many friends and a fine social position should be won. Your exceptional business or professional ability might be best displayed as a doctor, trained nurse, dietitian, artist, musician, dancer, singer, librarian, writer or shop manager. Your conjugal felicity and well-being seems to be assured.

The child born on September 14 will most likely develop in the bloom of youth a great ambition, which is apt to be realized. This youngster ought to be mentally and physically sound, and have a very happy life, filled with triumphs. If a man and September 14 is your natal day, you need to be conservative and thrifty, if your bank account is to measure up to your hopes. Through medical, journalistic, literary, promotional, educational, artistic or financial activities your expectations may become realities.

President Jefferson Is Sailing Outbound From Victoria Today

American Mail Line Ship Will Dock Here From Seattle About 1 P.M. to Embark Travelers and Load Mails

Delayed in sailing from Seattle yesterday at 11 a.m. on account of a demand by members of her crew for a bonus of $100 per man because of the Sino-Japanese trouble, the American Mail Line S.S. President Jefferson, Captain John Griffith, U.S.N.R., commander, will not leave the Puget Sound port before 9 o'clock this morning, according to advices received by W. M. Allan, local agent for the line, last evening.

The Jefferson should reach Rithet Piers around 1 o'clock this afternoon, and will embark passengers and take on mails for ports in the Far East before proceeding to Yokohama, her first port of call. The liner has a fair list of passengers aboard, some of whom expect to reach Shanghai from Hongkong.

ESTABLISH RECORD

With a banner year in steamship travel reaching its climax, all ships of the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd Lines for several weeks past have been taxed to capacity. Four ships of the above lines arriving during the past week brought 5,500 travelers to New York, high mark for the past five years. The Bremen, with 2,092, set a new mark for the year.

LEAVE FOR EAST

Delegates to the eleventh annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce left Vancouver last night on their special train over Canadian National Lines. They will spend three days at Jasper on the return trip home, arriving there at 9:30 this morning, and leaving at 10 p.m. Thursday.

RATES WILL RISE

Effective September 15, all Steamship companies that are members of the Trans-Pacific Passenger Conference will boost their rates. It has been stated authoritatively. The boost will effect all passenger accommodations 5 per cent. The decision to advance the rates was reached at a recent meeting of the conference.

SALE CONSUMMATED

Seattle advices state the sale of the motorship Carisso by James Griffiths & Sons to Eugene Matkovic, of Split, Adriatic Sea, has been concluded. She will be renamed Nikola Matkovic and will load lumber at Vancouver this week for the United Kingdom. Sale of the craft awaited approval by the United States Maritime Commission because of transfer to Yugoslavian flag. The Carisso, one time known as the Magnakook, was launched at Long Beach in 1919.

WENT SOUTH ON INVADER

Captain George Newell Taking Busman's Holiday on Big Schooner Yacht

Captain George Newell, of the Island Tug & Barge Company's staff, is making the run down the Pacific Coast aboard the big schooner yacht Invader.

Due for a holiday, the opportunity of signing on for the cruise from Victoria to Los Angeles came when several members of the vessel's personnel left the craft here.

Captain Newell, who has had plenty of experience in that type of craft on the Atlantic Coast, will travel home again by train, following the arrival of the Invader at her home port.

When he signed on, Captain K. F. Joseph, of the Invader, told Captain Newell he would have to be shipmate with a real, live Mexican jaguar, which had the run of the deck and the rigging when the yacht was under way. But the pleasant prospect of feeling the kick of the rudder on a sail-driven vessel again proved too strong an appeal, and he decided to take a chance with the spotted cat.

The jaguar is a pretty specimen of its kind and is quite friendly with everyone aboard. Captain Joseph stated it liked to roam about the deck and climb the rigging, a favorite pastime being to swing itself in one or other of the light screens. It is fourteen months old and weighs 114 pounds.

ANIMAL TRAINER

The owner of the Invader is an expert animal trainer, George Gernert, who believes that all wild animals can be conquered by kindness. He never uses an implement of any kind, and in the twenty-one years he has devoted to training animals, has had to acknowledge few failures.

Mr. Gernert has been furnishing trained animals to the motion picture industry for years and has made several productions on his own in which animals have been featured, notably "Mawaw," which he produced in Malaysia.

Since he has owned the Invader, the ship has been available for charter by motion picture people. She never goes offshore, confining her cruising mainly between Los Angeles and Catalina Island, and occasionally making the trip to Puget Sound. On her present cruise, the Invader spent her time in Strait of Georgia waters.

Invictus Arch-Wedge

Combines Smartness and Style
With New Walking-Wearing Comfort... in This Fine Shoe

$6.00

Restores
Natural Shape
to the Foot

No longer is it necessary to sacrifice smartness and style in order to wear an orthopedic shoe, for Invictus Arch-Wedge appearance and corrective foot comfort are perfectly combined.

The stout leather support for the arch and instep, long supporting counter and the wedge-sole which lifts the inner step of the foot have been scientifically designed along lines suggested by a famous orthopedic surgeon. These features restore natural shape to the foot, bring the tread to its normal level and allow the heel to rest naturally without flattening.

The foot is brought into balance and relieved of muscular and nervous strains which cause undue fatigue.

There are a number of smart styles for your selection, available in a variety of widths and sizes that assure a perfect fitting for every foot.
